READING EXERCISE (5 POINTS /0.5 EACH)

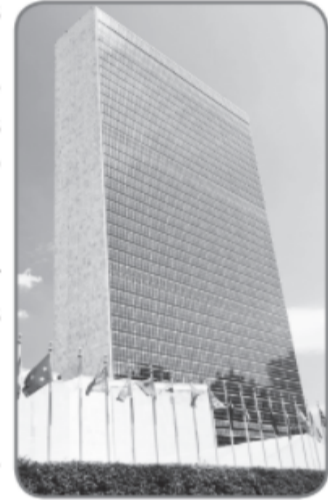

Read the article and match the answer to each question

The United Nations

Do you remember Helen Harris? She's a translator who works at the United Nations. The place where she works sounds very interesting. Let's read about it.

The United Nations is an organization that was founded after World War II on October 24, 1945, to promote international cooperation between countries. When it was founded, only 51 countries were members, but now there are 193. The flag of the United Nations is blue, the olive branches are a symbol of peace, and the world map represents all the people of the world.

The UN headquarters are in New York City. There are other main offices in Geneva, Nairobi, and Vienna. The United Nations receives money contributions from its members.

The UN works to maintain international peace and security, promote human rights, protect the environment, and help in case of hunger and natural disaster in any country.
