

Germany surrenders from WWII 8 of May

By Rodrigo Cabanillas

On May 8, 1945 Germany surrendered from World War II since on April 30 Hitler committed suicide and with that put end to his dictatorship and named Karl Dönitz as his successor in case he died then Karl's plan was that all its soldiers and civilians not continue in the war and thus signed that on May 8 at 11:00 p.m. they would surrender but this war did not end until September 2, 1945
